The Judicial Vacancy.

The Board of Supervisors, looking

the judicial situation square in the face, and having due regard to the public interest, has had the nerve and good sense to adopt the following preamble

and resolution:

"Whereas, by the death of Hon. William P. Wade, a vacancy has occurred on the bench of the Superior Court of this county; and, whereas, we believe it to have been demonstrated during the illness of Judge Wade, Smith and

Clark that the business of said Superior Court can be easily transacted by the remaining five judges; therefore,

"Resolved, that His Excellency, H. H.

Markham, Governor of this State, be requested not to fill the vacancy thus occasioned by the death of Judge Wade,

and that a copy of this resolution be immediately forwarded to the Governor and to the Bar Association of this county, asking them to refrain from any nomination to fill said vacancy."

This action will not suit certain eager aspirants for the dead judge's shoes,

and may even be opposed by the Bar

Association, which assumes to regulate things judicial in this office-ridden county; but it meets the approval of the taxpayers whenever the expenditure of a needless dollar is saved; and at the same time the efficiency of the county administration is left unimpaired. We have no doubt of the correctness of the position taken by the supervisors, that our court business can be successfully disposed of by five judges working with reasonable diligence. Experience has demonstrated this to be so; and a comparison of the amount of work formerly done by the judges, when there were but two, and again when the number was four, with the amount done during the period when the number of judges

has been six, will, we are confident,

sustain the contention that Los Angeles county is overloaded with judicial officers.

In the prevailing eagerness in certain quarters to have Judge Wade's vacancy filled by executive appointment, the claim will be stoutly urged that the provision of the Constitution on this subject is mandatory, and that the Governor must appoint. We doubt whether this assumption is borne out by the true meaning of the fundamental law.

In the present case, no complete vacancy in the court has been created, as would be the case in a county where there is but one Superior Judge, and he dying. We have here a Superior Court in full operation, with a sufficiency of judges left after the death of one of their number. The machinery of the court does not stop, and need not be seriously interrupted by the untoward

event under discussion. Some changes in assignments and in the routine which heretofore obtained will only be necessary. The law does not prescribe that any particular judge out of a number of Superior judges shall sit in any special class or kind of cases.

This conclusion, therefore, is reasonable, to-wit: That the Governor, while not empowered to permit a judicial vacancy to exist for any length of time in a county having but a single Superior Judge, may exercise his discretion

about filling a vacancy occurring in a county which has enough Superior judges still remaining to transact its court business.

This is clearly the case in Los Angeles county, and the Times and the people

desire to see the treasury respected occasional.

Today the electors of Ohio will choose a full State ticket, and members of the Senate and the House of Representatives. There is every probability that

McKinley will obtain a very large plurality. The people of the United States have had a good opportunity of late to study the effect which is produced even by the suggestion to abolish or greatly change the tariff which McKinley framed. It is a pretty poor time for the Democrats to go election-

-eering just now, as they are forced to place themselves on the defensive, and bearing young. Col. Murray says there is not one-quarter of the seals on the rookeries that there were five years ago, and he predicts that sealskin garments must continue to advance in price.

It is reported that promising discoveries of gold have been made in the southern part of Ventura county, where gold was found by the Indians before the discovery of 1849. There are said to be large deposits in the mountains of that section, awaiting discovery and development. How would it be for some of our citizens to organize a company, and make a systematic search, with the aid of a few hundred of our unemployed men? The theory that it needs experienced men to prospect for minerals is combatted by the correspondence of a San Francisco paper, who shows that many of the most important discoveries of mineral on this Coast have been made by "tenderfeet."

There have been several cases of late—notably in San Francisco—where wholesale firms on this Coast have gone into bankruptcy after first securing most of their creditors on the Coast, then leaving their Eastern creditors out in the cold. Such conduct as this, if persisted in, will have the effect of giving California a black eye in the mercantile world of the East.

A Dubious Report.
A report comes from Washington to a San Francisco paper that the Attorney-General is preparing papers to commence suit to stop the partition of the Stanford estate, the object being to have accessible property on which to levy to pay the difference between the debt which the Central Pacific Railroad owes the government and the value of the road.

The government advanced to the builders of the road about $28,000,000 in bonds running for thirty years. This time will expire in 1898. The interest upon this sum will, in 1898, exceed $50,000,000. Thus the total debt to the government will be $78,000,000. The debt of the company to creditors other than the government is $52,000,000. Thus the total debt of the road is $130,000,000.

To pay this sum the company has $22,000,000 in its sinking fund and $12,000,000 in the United States Treasury. The principal alone of the debt of the company exceeds $80,000,000, and it is estimated that the railroad could be constructed today for half that amount. Old-time Californians, who have watched the various proceedings between the government of the United States and the Central Pacific Railroad builders will not expect to learn that the heirs of Mr. Stanford are losing any sleep on account of this report which comes from Washington.

Dangers of Civilization.
The awful catastrophe at Santander, in Spain, reminds one forcibly that modern inventive ingenuity has added greatly to the dangers which beset the lives and limbs of mankind in this nineteenth century. It is true that civilization has given us comparative immunity from wild beasts, savage tribes and freebooters—although the train-robbers are always with us—but in place of these we have the dangers to life which attend the use of high explosives, railroad traveling, electric lights and so forth, not to mention the deadly gasoline stove, and the gun which wasn't loaded, so that, taken altogether, it is doubtful whether there are not more violent deaths today throughout the civilized world than there were several centuries ago, when might was right, and "off with his head" was not a meaningless figure of speech for use on the stage. It would seem that the ingenuity which devised all these modern improvements should be equal to the task of making their use comparatively safe. The greatest ingenuity cannot, however, always guard against criminal carelessness, and this appears to have been the cause of the frightful catastrophe at Santander.

Respectable citizens of Chicago must feel deeply mortified to think that the great fair, which has brought such glory to their wonderful city, had scarcely closed, when the Council chamber was made the scene of the most disgraceful disturbance that has ever been witnessed in a municipal legislature of that or probably any other great American city. Almost before Mayor Harrison was cold in his grave, a wrangling occurred among the aldermen over the election of his successor, during which a number of fist fights were indulged in and blood was drawn from aldermanic noses. The Democratic minority succeeded in electing a temporary Mayor. Now that the people of Chicago have got through with the fair, they should try to reform their municipal government, which is currently reported to be the most corrupt in the United States. This would, perhaps, be a bigger job than to build a World's Fair, but the people who created the White City can do it if they make up their minds that it shall be done.

We are apt to criticize the barbarism displayed by German students in their duels, but they, at least, injure nobody but themselves. Such cannot be said of the disgraceful actions of the Ann Arbor students in Michigan on Halloween. About two hundred of them started in to run the town, barricading electric railways, smashing car windows, whipping up sidewalks and tearing down fences, while the authorities were powerless. Such conduct as this goes far beyond the limits of legitimate sport, and confirms the opinion of those who believe that we have too many universities in this country. If these boys had been engaged during the day in learning some useful manual trade, they would not probably have had so much superfluous energy to devote to destroying other people's property, and setting a bad example to those who enjoy less educational privileges.

The fur seals are decreasing. It is the belief of Col. Joseph Murray, who for five years has been the United States special agent at the sealing grounds, that the new arrangements will not be sufficient to prevent the herds from extermination. The first year he was out the catch was 100,000. The first year following it had fallen to 21,000, and it has since been about 7500. The sixty-mile limit is not enough to protect the seals. They will surely be exterminated in a day, and often go south 150 to 200 miles. This is especially true of the female seals.

At the Alhambra Field Day.
The third annual field day of the Alhambra Athletic Club will be held December 2, or the second Saturday after Thanksgiving day. This club has become very popular with the residents of Southern California for the pleasant field days they have already had. At this meeting it is proposed to give prizes, at least in all open events, and while they will not be very elaborate, they will be worth working for. The club has made remarkable progress since the last field day, and a large number of people will be present from town and country. All the most prominent racing men have already signified their intention of entering.

CREDITORS' SALE!

THE stock of goods of the CITY OF PARIS DRY GOODS STORE is being rapidly sold, the quality of the goods and the PRICES they are being sold at have, and are, telling the story, the people of this section of the State are getting the benefit of this forced sale. Goods are being sold entirely regardless of value or cost of manufacture; the only legitimate and honest judges of this fact are the people who have purchased goods at this sale. All others are and must be simply influenced by personal ill feelings or selfish motives.

The creditors will continue to sell this large and finely assorted stock until all the goods are sold, and the CASH realized, no matter how much or how little that may be the community does not care or worry itself about that, the only question is how CHEAPLY are the goods sold. The verdict rests with them. The immense crowd of purchasers that have been in daily attendance gives answer. One fact is admitted, that the City of Paris Dry Goods Store has always carried the largest and finest line of goods in Los Angeles. NO TRASH. NO AUCTION JOB LOTS, but the choicest goods that are manufactured in America and Europe; this is the class of goods which is now being sold for less than other merchants pay for their goods to manufacturers.

You save from 40 to 75 per cent. by buying now and at the Creditors' Sale. Cold facts cannot be talked down; compare these Goods and Prices with others; that tells the tale.

In House Furnishing Goods

Look at Blankets, Comforts, Window Shades, Scrims, Down Pillows, Table Covers, Bed Spreads, Table Linen, Napkins, Towels, Sheetings, Muslins, Prints, Gingham, Flannels, Lace Curtains, etc. See the "Novelty Dress Pattern Suits," the very latest importations from Europe, and some of the finest that were manufactured for the Fall and Winter of '93 and '94. At this sale you can buy two suits at about the same price you would have to pay others for one. Seeing is believing. In plain weaves, Serges, Henriettas, Hop Sacking and Cashmeres, this stock is complete in all shades and qualities. Every yard will be sold for less than import price; make comparisons with others.

Be sure and look through the following line of Silks, Crystal, China, Japanese, plain and changeable Surahs and Bengalines, Satin Duchesse, plain Satin and Fancy Novelty Silks; the verdict will be: "This is the Finest and Most Complete Line of Silks in the City." And prices that no other house in California will duplicate, the reason is the creditors.

Must Have the Cash,

And will sell all the goods for less money than others can purchase them at. The financial misfortunes of the CITY OF PARIS DRY GOODS STORE have put money, dollars and cents, into the pockets of the purchasing public.

Every dollar's worth of goods in this immense establishment must be sold. Bring your

and you can get $2 in goods for every $1 in money.

ST. PAUL STRIKE OFF.

Street Railway Employees Withdraw Their Demands,

Which Were Ill-advised and Hasty—Refusal of the Company to Discharge Non-union Men—Fifty-six Union Men Lose Their Places.

(St. Paul Pioneer-Press, October 31, 1893.) The strike of the street-railway employees is at an end and a peaceful settlement of the trouble between them and the company has been reached. Acting upon the suggestion of Mayor Wright, with whom a committee representing the employees' union conferred, a delegation waited upon President Lowry yesterday, and the result justified the course recommended by the Mayor. It had been pointed out to the employees' representatives that the members of the union had been ill-advised in their action and that their demands were such as could not be acceded to or receive the sympathy or support of the citizens generally, and it is understood that the members of the union admitted that they had been too hasty in their action, and, owing to the youthfulness and inexperience of their leading members, had been led into committing a serious error of judgment. They, therefore, were prepared to withdraw their demands upon the company, as advised, and it is understood, did so, with the result that the company, in filling vacancies, will give preference to its old employees.

The course pursued by the fifty-six discharged men was mainly and sensible. Seeing that if they maintained their position it would endanger the peace settlement of the trouble, they declared that they wished to be left out of the question and would not seek or insist upon being re-employed, and, owing to this, the negotiations were successful, and, much to the relief of all classes of citizens, the strike and lock-out was terminated last night.

Union and Non-union.

(St. Paul Pioneer-Press (editorial), Oct. 31.) We are not as yet fully advised of all the points at issue between the city railway company and its employees; but, if the latter have no better case against Mr. Lowry than they have in their criticisms of the Pioneer-Press, the ground is very thin under their feet. In each case they, unfortunately, confine themselves to general denunciation, without submitting a single grievance as a particular and specific charge. All that the people or the Pioneer-Press knows of the street-railway trouble is gathered from the official announcements made by the parties to it. Other matters and serious matters may lie back of this, but they cannot be reckoned with as long as they are not formulated. The sympathy of the public is demanded now by the men, because they say that the company is fighting organized labor, and desires to break down this issue of unionism was first raised.

Let those who desire to do justice, wherever their sympathies may lie, go back to the first public act of the present disturbance, the first symptom of the disagreement now existing. This is to be found in a communication officially promulgated by the local division of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America. It is signed by the president and secretary of the Executive Committee. It bears date of October 29, and says that the executive board promulgates it, "under instructions from our organization." In this circular there is demanded the dismissal of certain employees of the company. But the gist of it all, and the only point on which a definite and positive demand, coupled with a threat, is the following: "Therefore, we have resolved that, commencing with Sunday, October 22, we, the members of Div. 27, A.A.S.R.E. A., shall refuse to remain in employment with, work with or check with any and all men in the train service of this company who are objectionable, including all non-union men." Upon receiving this the company, in order to avoid the threatened strike on Sunday, temporarily laid off the men objected to. A few days thereafter they restored the non-union men to their places, and proceeded to discharge fifty-six men in St. Paul, out of some three hundred members of the union. It was after this discharge that the men formally resolved on a strike, which was threatened in the communication referred to.

Now it is a most extraordinary position for a man to take that union men have a right to fight non-union, but that the union is safe, on the one hand, and that their sacred right to do not care to join. And self-contradiction could go no further than in the case of men who call mass-meetings and call on the public for aid because they say that their sacred right to organize, to enjoy all the privileges of freemen outside of their hours of labor, has been denied, while the very first act of the whole trouble was their denial of exactly the same right to non-union men, and their threat to demand the whole business of the street-railway company if it did not discharge them. On this point the people are not deceived. Whatever the wrongs of the men, they will have public sympathy, and they will have public sympathy when they are stated, this issue of union and non-union is one precipitated by the men themselves and made the central figure of the fight. They may rest assured that those who are their best friends will not more support them in their proposition that a man has no right to labor unless he joins a union than they will support a company in the position that unless a man signed a contract to keep out of the union he should be discharged. The plain statement of this fact seems to be the offense of the Pioneer-Press.

The City Council in Session—Considerable Business.

Trouble Over Street Railway Matters—Personal Notes of Interest—The Local News Summed Up in a Brief Manner.

The City Council met in regular session at 8 o'clock Monday afternoon, President Weed presided, and all the trustees were present, except Mr. Lukens.

All bills filed to date were referred to the Committee on Auditing and Finance, without reading.

Superintendent of Streets Brown addressed the board relative to the bill of Contractor J. A. Fairchild, covering the extra expense incurred by lowering the curb in front of R. Williams's building on the northeast corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue. The question of the liability of the city was discussed, but no action was taken.

Capt. C. M. Simpson, representing the Highland-street Railway company, addressed the board, asking that that company be granted permission to lay a third rail on its track on the northeast corner of Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue. The question of the liability of the city was discussed, but no action was taken.

Mr. Dr. H. C. Hagerman is conducting a successful revival at the Christian church. Much interest is being manifested in the revival.

The defunct Main-street saloon was again offered at Sheriff's sale yesterday noon, but, as before, no buyers were present. Nobody seems to want the thing very bad.

The Universalist Church of this city began another year's work last Sunday. The pastor, Rev. W. P. Craig, has been elected to the position of pastor.

The church is fortunate in the possession of an unnumbered piece of property at Fourth and Gibbs street, in the shape of a double corner lot and neat chapel, and the latter is to be converted into a parsonage. A fund has already been started for the erection of a new church building.

Close of the Chrysanthemum Fair—Award of Premiums.

The chrysanthemum show closed on Saturday evening, having been a most successful one in every particular. The attendance was large, and the displays of the "Queen of Autumn" were marvellous in profusion and size and quality.

The committee had a hard task in making up the list of awards, about fifty being called for. The total number of premiums was awarded $2,000.

Mr. Cutter was awarded first on best single plant, potted, and best single plant, running water. Mr. Saunders was awarded second premium in each instance. The best seedling of 1893 was made to Mr. H. C. Hagerman.

SEVERELY CRITICIZED.

The action of the Riverside Banking Company, in deeding to Ad. Aiken some certain property in this city in order to have him withdraw a suit he had brought on the bank, has been severely criticized and condemned at the hands of citizens who are greatly interested in the bank's resumption of business.

It is certain that the bank is exerting every effort to get the suit dismissed, and in position to its proposition to resume business upon its four-year plan, and is meeting with pretty good success.

RIVERSIDE BREVITIES.

There is being circulated a petition to the county supervisors, requesting them to enact ordinances forbidding the selling from the county game of any kind during any part of the year.

Practical Method of Getting Information—Meeting of the Supervisors—Surprise Party—General Notes.

On Saturday last there was a meeting of citizens in Santa Ana for the purpose of considering the matter of making tests of the growth of sugar beets in this vicinity. The attendance was not large, but a number of the largest land-owners in the county were present, and a great deal of interest was manifested in the subject matter.

After a lengthy discussion, the following resolution was adopted, and a committee of one, R. Q. Wickham, was appointed to circulate it among the citizens and farmers in the surrounding country for signatures.

"Whereas, we are of the opinion that the manufacture of sugar from sugar beets may, and should become a profitable industry in this valley, both to the producer and manufacturer; and whereas, in order to demonstrate the safety of so large an investment as will be required in the manufacture of sugar from beets, we deem it necessary to learn by practical test the amount of land adapted to raising such beets, and also the quality of beets produced on such land; therefore,

"Resolved, that we, the undersigned citizens of the Santa Ana Valley, hereby agree to plant, weed and cultivate on our various lands from one to four square rods of sugar beets, whatever greater or less amount may be mutually agreed upon, under the direction of some competent person, who shall be selected by the parties to the agreement, to direct and superintend such work; and each of us agrees to pay for the services so rendered, whatever the cost may be, provided, however, such amount does not exceed $2 each to the parties hereto."

Boyle Heights Notes.

The electric company has provided a new cable for the Boyle Heights division, and the task of bringing the heavy spools up to the power-house was accomplished yesterday night. The rope weighs 62,000 pounds, and was brought over on trucks drawn by twenty-six horses. It will be wound on an immense relay reel in the engine-house and kept for use in an emergency.

First Engineer A. O. Gale of the cable power-house in receipt of bad news from St. Louis, where his wife and daughter have been visiting during the summer. They were expected home within a week, but instead there comes a letter stating that the little girl, Mattie, who is 13 years old, met with a frightful experience on the 25th ult., and is in such a condition that her return cannot be thought of at present. It seems from the letter, although the details are meager, that she was crossing the street on an errand for her mother, when she was chased by a vicious horse which was running loose. The animal caught her by both cheeks with its teeth and tore her face fearfully, in fact, the letter states that the flesh from her face was stripped downward so that it hung upon her breast. The best of doctors are attending the child and say that her life is in no danger, but that she will probably be badly disfigured.

Public Library.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors was held yesterday afternoon. Directors Borden, Howard and Robinson being present.

The librarian reported that the number of volumes issued during October was 35,127, and that 2919 persons visited the reference room for the purpose of study, and that 411 names were added to the membership, making a total of 13,141 persons drawing books, or 18 per cent of a total population of 70,000. There were 125 books donated to the library during the month. The total number of books in the library is 34,196.

A committee was appointed to prepare the annual report of the library to be presented to the Council the second week in December next.

The stock of the "Bon Marche,"

E. R. Marcus, Proprietor,

Which the finest trade in Los Angeles will recollect as first being started at the Nadeau Hotel, later at 223 S. Broadway, and last at 122 S. Spring street, was sold to us last Saturday at public auction by J. C. Cline, the Sheriff of Los Angeles county. We purchased it for the benefit of the public, not for the benefit of the creditors of Mr. Marcus. We are here as public benefactors and do not pose as martyrs, selling this stock for the benefit of the creditors; neither did we pay our San Francisco creditors 90 cents on the dollar for merchandise that any responsible concern could buy at the fountain head for 80 cents, and try to humbug the good people of this burg by telling we could save them 40 to 75 per cent. over the price of any legitimate concern in this State. This failure, it is true, was not so bad, or the stock as large as some others that have occurred lately, neither was he as fortunate in being blessed with a wealthy father-in-law, or he, too, might, if he was silly enough, revel over his own business corpse.
